

0.1 Purpose

The MyTaxi Service Design Document is intended to provide an explanation of how the system has been designed. It's also destined to give to the software development team an overall guidance to the implementation of the architecture of the software project.